Hand in hand
Arms swing like children
Smiling from ear to ear
Laughter on sidewalks
Not going anywhere
Empty Eighth Avenue
Drawing us closer to our destiny which is here
Quietly listening

Here comes the sun over Sheep's Meadow
Hard to believe we're standing here in the heart of Manhattan
You can hear traffic not going anywhere and just for this moment
It all feels so distant but clear
We take a deep breath

Central Park Memories, a time not so long ago
Of horse drawn carriages rounding the park

Instrumental

Light snow begins
Light snow begins to fall
Drawing us closer to our destiny which is clear
A life together

Ah ... Central Park Memories
Arms swing like children.
